

NICHOLS JUNIOR COLLEGE

1930's

DUDLEY : MASSACHUSETTS

NICHOLS JUNIOR COLLEGE

of Business Administration and Executive Training

JAMES L. CONRAD, President

Dudley

Massachusetts

The main classroom Building containing conference, class, projection rooms, bookstore and assembly hall.

The Chap
speakers ar school occa

Nick

The Chapel is used for guest speakers and the more formal school occasions.

Nichols College Library contains approximately 9000 volumes and many current periodicals and newspapers.

Small classes with individual attention.

The Debating Club active in Academy Hall.

The Club house is the students' social center.

Class room equipment adapted to subject.

The Dining Hall is attractive and homelike.

A glimpse of the dining hall
from campus.

A typical conference class.

Extra curricular activities form a large part of a student's life at the college.

Conant Hall. one of the dormitories.—homelike and comfortable.

Every a student

Every attempt is made to have student environment congenial and comfortable.

Life at Nichols is a well rounded experience. Many fine friendships and social contacts with young men from foreign countries and many states, are established.

Budleigh Hall contains the Dean's apartment, offices and accommodates seventy students.

The lounge in Budleigh Hall is a popular gathering place.

Social affairs are a frequent and enjoyable diversion

The Glee Club offers a very entertaining and profitable activity.

Full schedules with colleges of equal competitive strength are maintained in many athletic activities.

Winter sport activities are enhanced by Nichols' location which lends itself to skiing, skating and tobogganing.

The Gymnasium is in constant use and has an excellent basketball court.

The Outing Club cabin in the process of completion. A new activity, possessing a splendid property, located several miles from the campus.

It is an diar of a
The invis pect time glim

The infirmary is a very comfortable and efficient unit located in the center of the campus. A resident infirmarian is always in attendance, and the doctor has office hours daily in the college.

It is always difficult to bring to an individual through the medium of pictures, the subtleties of atmosphere and environment. The college extends a cordial invitation to parents and prospective students to visit at any time, and hopes that these glimpses of Nichols College have proven of interest.

The geographical distribution of students at Nichols at the present time is 22 states and nine foreign countries.

It is the policy of the college to extend a cordial invitation to visit whenever convenient. It will be a pleasure to furnish any further information that may be desired. Address: James L. Conrad, President, Nichols Junior College, Dudley, Mass.