Scope and Content

The Nichols Photo Collection has been organized by subject to facilitate ease of access. The majority of the photos in the collection have no identifying information and no date. For this reason, many of the people and places have been grouped under broad subject categories, such as “faculty” or “students in group—studying.” Many dates have been estimated and placed in ranges, such as [c. 1890s-1900s].

The photo collection contains photographs that primarily depict special events and everyday activities relating to the history of Nichols College.

NOTE: Many images are stored on the L drive in several files: See Photograph Database and (mainly) topic folders in Nichols Archive Images of Photos and More
